

GUIDE to FOOD and FUN

In the Torrance and South Bay Area

SENSIBLE SPEED
A sensible speed is one at which the driver can see danger and be able to maneuver the car clear of it under all conditions, states the Allstate Motor Club. Since ability to spot hazards decreases as speed increases, motorists will protect themselves by driving only as fast as vision and road conditions allow.

Four Torrance Students Attend Science Symposium

Four South High students participated in the 3rd Annual Science Symposium held last week at the Los Angeles County Science and Industry Museum. They are Roberta Oehler, Robert Greene, Richard Norman, and Carl Schuirba. They were accompanied by South High science department chairman Wallace Geer.

The Nadine Jansen Trio opened a limited engagement on Monday at Cyrano's in Redondo Beach. Miss Jansen plays a variety of instruments including the flugel horn, and the trio's music is played in a refreshing modern theme.

On Friday, November 1, and Saturday, November 2, four South High students, (Roberta Oehler, Robert Greene, Richard Norman, and Carl Schuirba) and Mr. Wallace Geer, Chairman of the Science Department at South High, participated in the 3rd Annual Science Symposium held at the Los Angeles County Science and Industry Museum.

Friday morning was spent registering and the introduction, which was given by Dr. William F. Fitzgerald, Museum Director. The students then listened to a talk entitled "Life on Other Worlds" presented by Dr. A. R. Hibbs, Senior Staff Scientist, Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

Friday afternoon the school districts participating toured various industry research facilities. The Torrance group visited the Space Technology Laboratory, located in El Segundo. The students were given a tour of the plant and a luncheon held in their honor.

Saturday was spent entirely at the museum. First was given a speech by Edward Teller, Physics Professor at U.S.C. Then, the audience was divided into three groups, those interested in biology, chemistry-biochemistry, and physics to hear a speech prepared by a fellow high school student. Afterwards the audience again rejoined to hear a talk entitled, "The Biochemical Twist," given by Dr. Paul Saltman of U.C.L.A.

COWBOYS' COMPANION — Joyce Redd, 21, blue-eyed blonde from Malibu, has been voted the "National Finals Sweetheart" for 1963. She will be official hostess of the NFR at the Los Angeles Sports Arena, Nov. 26-Dec. 1. The World Series of rodeos will feature the best 100 cowboys in the United States and Canada in eight events daily.

COWGIRL RIDES $30,000 WAGON

If you see an eye-catching blonde cowgirl traveling around in a $30,000 station wagon instead of on a horse, you will know she's 21-year-old Joyce Redd, 1963 National Finals Sweetheart.

Not that Joyce can't ride. She's an excellent horsewoman, but she has all of Southern California to cover as a courier for the National Finals Rodeo in the Los Angeles Sports Arena, Nov. 26 to Dec. 1.

Joyce is official hostess to the greatest rodeo in the world and already has started her tour of duty among Southland communities to tell them of preparations for the spectacular event.

She was voted NFR Sweetheart by the Rodeo Writers of America from among six finalists who included Judy Cason, 18, Buena Park; Carole Lee Cassell, 18, Anaheim; Margie Edes, 22, Long Beach; Janet Harding, 20, Los Angeles; and Suzy Rush, 19, Maywood.

Joyce's car, loaned her by Nudie's Rodeo Tailors of North Hollywood, sports steer horns across the front, pistol-handled doors, and silver dollars across the dashboard.

Only the top 15 cowboys in each of six events can compete at the NFR, with purses totaling $70,000.

They have just clashed at St. Louis, the final rodeo of the year to count points for NFR standings. Most of the top ones are safe, but when you get down around 12th, 13th, 14th and 15th spots, the official markings now being figured at St. Louis can be the difference between a cowpoke landing a berth in the National Finals or dropping out of the qualifiers.

Tickets may be obtained at the Sports Arena, all Mutual and Liberty ticket agencies, and Farmer's Market Ticket Agency.

Moscow Chamber Orchestra Appears At Philharmonic

The Moscow Chamber orchestra, augmented by other instruments for special works, in the permanent group of 14 string players, all graduates of the Moscow Conservatory. In music of the 17th and 18th centuries, the group, as was the custom of the period, performs without conductor with Barshal as its leading violinist. Beginning with works of the mid-18th century, Barshal takes over the role of conductor.

Rudolf Barshal, one of today's greatest violinists, has headed the orchestra since its inception. In addition to his fame as a soloist, he is the composer of arrangements and new orchestrations of many works for chamber orchestra, including those by Bach, Prokofiev and Shostakovich.

The orchestra is one of soloists and in its repertoire each instrumentalist has the opportunity of performing a solo part. The core of the

BASIL RATHBONE INTERPRETS SHAKESPEAREAN INTERLUDES

Basil Rathbone, one of the best loved theatrical figures of this century, will interpret dramatic and poetic interludes from Shakespeare, Shelley, Poe, Dylan Thomas and the two Brownings during his exclusive performance Friday evening, Nov. 15, at 8:30 in Culver City Memorial Auditorium, Culver at Overland, off San Diego Freeway.

Often termed the "Heifetz of the spoken word," Rathbone will be heard in Hamlet's Speech to the Players, "To Be or Not to Be," Romeo's Death Soliloquy, "The Seven Ages of Man," and the Quarrel Scene from Julius Caesar, in which the redoubtable Rathbone takes both sides of the argument.

The British actor brings to his "evening" a wealth of material put together with an enviable sense of humor, interspersing his justly famous Shakespearean and poetic interpretations with amusing anecdotes from half a century in the theater.

After playing some 50-odd Shakespearean roles under Sir Frank Benson, originator of the Stratford-on-Avon Festival, Rathbone captivated the London theater audience. Gilbert Miller brought

New Carson Park Dedication Scheduled for November 23

Plans are well under way for the dedication of Carson Park Nov. 23 at 10:15 a.m., announces Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

The building is one-story with forced air heating and acoustical tile in areas for the public.

A walled patio of smooth concrete containing a raised outdoor stage and planter areas adjoins the building.

Master of ceremonies for the dedication will be Paul Schneider, president of the Carson Chamber of Commerce.

The Carson High School Colt Band and the Stephen White Junior High School Senatoettes will bring musical highlights to the program.

Supervisor Hahn will present a gold key to Mrs. Frank Whitmore, president of the Carson Elementary School P.T.A., to symbolize completion of the park and turning over the fine recreational facilities to the community.
